

Seminar: Parenting and Issues of Attachment

Date: Saturday 27th January 2018

Time: 11.00 a.m. - 3.00 p.m.

The debate continues as to why so many children and young people are in the caring system. There are many who feel that more support and help should be offered to parents, especially in child development, the development of personality and identity. This seminar will examine these issues based on the premise of attachment theory.

Seminar Speaker: Janice Jopie-Ann Gittens

Janice is Founding Director of Lives Fulfilled, an organisation set up to inspire and equip others to be the best they can be and achieve their life goals and inner peace. Janice has spent over 25 years teaching, training and developing others to take their place in society and realise their potential and life purpose. Janice holds an MA in Psychoanalysis and has carried out extensive research on Caribbean identity and the impact of slavery on contemporary attitudes.

Janice is Chair of Supporting Relationships and Families. She has a keen interest in the work of SRF as her studies and research has shown her that broken childhood attachment is at the root of many problems played out in adolescence and adult life.
